Weekly News

Congratulations to Yankton's own Bruce Cull for winning the 2022 Outstanding Hospitality and Customer Service Award for the Southeast South Dakota tourism region.

Cull was presented The Ruth Ziolkowski Outstanding Hospitality and Customer Service Award during the South Dakota Governors Conference on Tourism in January. This award recognizes members of the South Dakota tourism industry who provide remarkable service to every visitor they encounter.

Congratulations, Bruce!

Did you know the NFAA Easton Yankton Archery Center staff plans The Vegas Shoot that occurs every February? With almost 4,000 archers, this is no small task. Get a glimpse behind the scenes with the link: <https://fb.watch/bewWL6eIBu/>.

A huge congratulations to the NFAA staff for another successful Vegas shoot!

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE & INDUSTRY

The South Dakota Chamber of Commerce & Industry's Business Caucus is in Two Weeks and YOUR VOTE COUNTS!

Join Business Day in Pierre or Be a Virtual Voter
Business Day at the Legislature is Thursday, February 24, 2022.

An important part of the event is Business Caucus. The State Chamber believes it is vitally important for South Dakota legislators to understand the views and priorities of the business community. In conjunction with an up-to-the-minute issue briefing, participants vote via text message on the same issues being debated by the legislature. The cumulative results are included in a report that is delivered to members of the legislature.

To make participation convenient, there is an online option for the legislative briefing, voting in Business Caucus and to hear from Neil Bradley of the US Chamber. Bradley has led the national discussion on hundreds of high-profile policy issues. The registration fee for online is $25. Details and registration options are at <https://bit.ly/3oD5pOR>.

Questions should be directed to maryanneb@sdchamber.biz.

What We're Up To...

Yankton Thrive was pleased to host John Knapp and his welding students from NECC (NORFOLK) Northeast Community College on Wednesday, February 16.

The group had a full day of tours and visited A-OX, Manitou, Solid Metals (L & M Radiator), Ehresmann Engineering and Astec. A networking lunch with the students was also enjoyed with representatives from RTEC, SHUR-CO, Ehresmann and Manitou.

Yankton Thrive will host more students from the NECC welding and Electromechanical Technology programs in March. If you wish to learn more, please contact Rita Nelson at Rita@Yanktonsd.com
